Another busy week in the Upper shoots pathway. This week has seen Armistice day, this is always a difficult concept for our children to grasp however all classes watched a short Cbeebies video on Armistice and observed the 2 minutes silence in their own way. Many classes made paper poppies and paper poppy wreaths to commemorate this important day in the calendar.

At the start of the week some classes carried on the fireworks theme by lighting a sparkler. A top tip for the future is to chop the end off a carrot and put the sparkler in the end of the carrot. It keeps the sparkler a nice distance away from your child's hand.

We've carried on our "once upon a time" theme with some role play! Silver class role played the story of Goldilocks and had a great time sitting in different chairs and pretending to sleep in different beds! Sapphire class tried making some porridge and surprised themselves by enjoying it when they tasted it.

Gold class have had a very exciting trip this week, they went to McDonalds and order their lunch. A great use of independence skills, it's a shame they didn't bring any back for the rest of us!
